

College resources may be accessed by the College General Counsel and her designees as needed to ensure appropriate use, investigate inappropriate use, ensure compliance with applicable laws and policies, and file and respond to litigation.

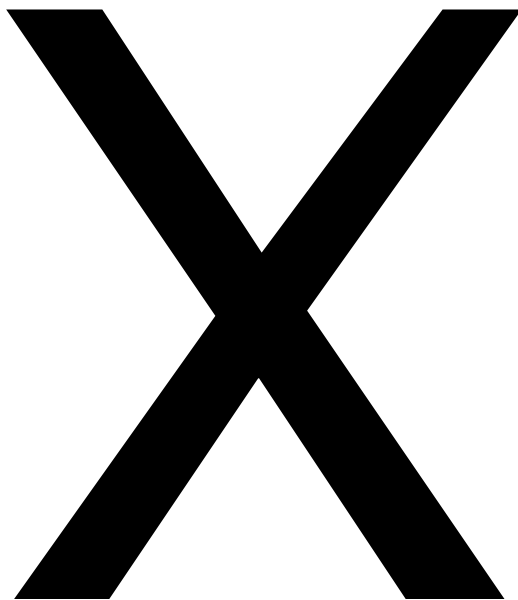

A stored collection of informati~

O ~ ° D

Users may use only those College resources that the College explicitly authorizes them to access.

College resources are provided for purposes related to the mission of the College. Personal use of College resources must be limited to infrequent incidental use.

Users are responsible for the proper use of College resources, including the use of personal electronic and network accounts provided by the College and the College's affiliates and any activities performed through them.

For questions or comments:

Barn

