

A disciplinary appeal may be submitted based on one or more of the following:

1. Denial of due process (i.e., failure to follow stated procedures);
2. Inadequate information to support decision; and/or
3. Sanction not in keeping with gravity of wrong doing (i.e., too harsh).

Upon receipt of the appeal, the Academic Integrity and Discipline Committee may:

1. Affirm the original decision and sanction;
2. Affirm the original decision, but lessen the sanction;
3. Reverse the original decision; or
4. Return the case to the appropriate board or administrative hearing officer for a new hearing.
5. In the event the committee needs clarification of the basis of the appeal or of the board's recommendation, the committee may hear from the student and/or a board representative for this limited purpose.

A disciplinary sanction does not go into effect until the appeal is completed, unless stipulated otherwise by the vice president for student services. All disciplinary actions taken by the Academic Integrity and Discipline Committee are recommendations to the vice president for student services. The vice president will make the final decision regarding all university discipline concerns .
